

KING GEORGE IS IMPROVING HIS DOCTORS STATE

Believe He Will Overcome
Bronchitis — Passes
Fair Night

London, Feb. 18.—The general condition of King George led his three physicians to hope today that he would be able to overcome the bronchitis trouble without it developing into anything more serious.

His specific illness is bronchitis due to influenza, it was stated.

An official bulletin issued at Buckingham palace today, said:

"The king had a fair night although there is no change in the bronchitis. The general condition of his majesty shows improvement."

(Signed)
"Stanley Hewitt,
"Dawson of Penn.,
"Milton Rees."

London, Feb. 18.—King George's condition was said to be satisfactory today after a restful night. It was learned that he had rested comfortably despite the bronchitis-influenza condition from which he has suffered since Saturday.

The Evening News said the king would be able to attend to urgent business today.

For a time yesterday the king's physicians were concerned about his condition, it was said, and now they are taking every precaution to ward off possible complications which would be ruinous.

The king remained in bed to guard against cold and undue exertion. Trained nurses are in attendance.

Only the usual crowds were outside the palace. The official bulletin was posted up on the palace gate following the traditional custom when a king is seriously ill.

POLICE CHIEF'S SON IS INDICTED FOR CHEMIST'S MURDER

Ashland, O., Feb. 18.—Ill with kidney, Carlos Gorham, indicted last night by special grand jury here on the charge of second degree murder, with a count for manslaughter in the killing of a rubber chemist, John Dalton on October 29, 1924, will probably not be arraigned today.

Attorney General Crabbe and Sherman Deaton, Urbana attorney, were in charge of the special investigation which Governor Donahay authorized after a grand jury last November failed to indict any of the nine local and county enforcement officers in the posse at the time Dalton, who lived northwest of Ashland, was shot.

Gorham, who is 26, is the son of the Ashland chief of police, a former traffic officer and had been made a special officer on the night the posse started out on the liquor search.

She is survived by her husband, one son, Charles Scheetz, at home and one daughter, Mrs. Bessie Burba, near Cedarville. Three sisters, Mrs. Jennie Hunnicut, Oklahoma, Mrs. Mary Bales of Cedarville and Mrs. Belle Tooker, Wilmington, with five brothers, Alfred Miller, Columbus; Elijah Miller, Junction City, Ohio; Solomon Miller, Troy, O.; Jacob Miller, Xenia and William Miller, Cedarville, also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the residence Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock with interment in Massies Creek Cemetery.

UNKNOWN INJURED WHEN HIT BY CAR

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 18.—Police were making every effort today to learn the identity of a young man lying in a hospital in a critical condition as a result of being struck by a rapidly moving interurban street car. The only semblance of identification found on him was a bill, bearing the name Kenneth Higgins, from the Brook Hardware and Harness Company of Harrisonburg, Va.

NAMES OF BLOOM AND HUFFMAN SENT TO SENATE—BIBLE BILL IS LOST

Collister Home Rule Bus Bill Before House For Passage
—Many New Bills Are Introduced Before
Time Limit.

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—Appointments by Governor Donahay of former Lieutenant Governor Earl D. Bloom, Bowling Green, and James W. Huffman, Zanesville, both Democrats, as members of the state utilities commission are expected to be sent today to the senate for confirmation.

The legislative mill will continue work on long calendars while further floods of new bills are expected, in anticipation of the closing of the bill introduction period next Monday night.

No outstanding measures are on the calendars for final passage today. The house will have before it for final passage, Thursday afternoon, the Collister city home rule bus bill.

The famous conspiracy bill, defeated two years ago, will appear again today on the legislative calendar when a new measure, sponsored by Representative Ball, Scioto County, will be up for second reading and reference to committee in the house. The measure provides maximum fines $10,000 and two years imprisonment for conspiring to violate any law of the state or a subdivision.

The Bible bill that would have required reading of scriptures each day in the public schools of Ohio came to a dramatic end in the house yesterday.

With a pending amendment it was committed to the table from which it probably never would be taken during the present session.

The untimely death of the measure was encompassed through a parliamentary trick of its opponents aided by several unsuspecting friends.

Defeat was bitter for its advocates, who charged that "rag rule" had been employed in sending the bill to its death.

Legislative leaders today made it clear that they propose to go ahead with the Republican permanent tax program, despite objections by Governor Donahay.

Two measures, now being studied by the governor with a view to a conference later, with legislative leaders, looking toward a compromise on tax legislation, both carrying home rule provisions, to meet the governor's wishes are scheduled today to be made special order in the house for next Tuesday afternoon when they will be called up for passage.

One is the Tallentire bill, providing that charter cities may, by vote of the people, fix their own tax limitations and, also setting up a complete budget system for cities.

The other is the Dodd bill, permitting subdivisions to authorize by vote of the people, extra levies either for running expenses, sinking funds or for special permanent improvements outside of present tax limitations.

In addition to his scheduled appointments to membership on the state utilities commission, Governor Donahay is also expected to send to the senate for confirmation his appointments of a member of the state tax commission to succeed Chairman S. E. Forney, whose term expired February 2, of three trustees of Ohio State University, and a member of the state civil service commission.

It was generally understood in legislative circles that the governor would name Charles Follett, a practicing attorney of Cleveland, as the member of the tax commission. Mr. Follett, who served as an assistant attorney general under Attorney General McGhee has been the governor's adviser on tax legislation now pending before the general assembly.

W. D. FAIRBANKS CALLED BY DEATH

William D. Fairbanks, 67, brother of N. H. Fairbanks, Springfield, and uncle of Mrs. H. C. Messenger, this city, died Monday at Deaconess Hospital, Cincinnati, of pneumonia, following an operation.

Funeral services were held in Springfield Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. M. D. Milligan, 1029 South Fountain Avenue. Burial was made in the Fairbanks family plot in Ferncliff Cemetery.

Former Kansas Farm Girl Involved In Divorce Case

Constantinople, Feb. 18.—Counsel for Princess Chevekiar in her action for divorce told the court today that the yachting trip which her husband made with the former Sidi Wirt Spreckels of San Francisco was premeditated and arranged by correspondence.

When Princess Chevekiar met the couple at the dock on their return it was a great surprise to them counsel said.

The judge asked for proof of counsel's assertion. The attorney for defense denied the yachting trip was a romantic episode. A third party accompanied the couple, he declared. Counsel for Princess Chevekiar then brought forward evidence which he said "would prove there had been misconduct without love."

FIVE PERSONS MAY BE BURIED BY EXPLOSIONS

Black Hand Or Business
Enemies Are Blamed
For Dynamiting

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 18.—Incendiary dynamite explosions blasted terror into the center of the wholesale produce district and demolished three buildings here today with a loss of $130,000 according to fire department officials.

Firemen are digging in tons of debris, following reports that five men might have been trapped, but owners of the buildings are certain no one was caught in the explosion.

Police believe the bombings may have been the work of a blackhand gang or by business rivals of the Landolina Brothers Produce Company, whose buildings were destroyed.

The force of the explosion broke windows for two blocks. Residents of the neighborhood, thrown from their beds by the shocks, said a series of sharp reports followed the first blast.

Police guards were rushed to the district to guard the William Penn Trust Company, next door to the Landolina building and the Franklin Savings and Trust Company, across the street.

The thick masonry sidewalk of the adjoining bank was bulged in and every breakable fixture smashed to the floor.

FAITHFUL DOG SAVES COUPLE FROM FIRE HERE

A faithful dog saved the lives of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hamilton, Lexington Avenue, early Wednesday when it aroused them in time to escape from their burning dwelling.

Awakened by the dog jumping on their bed, and barking, the couple was able to flee the house in their night clothes, just before the burning roof collapsed.

The fire started about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, and spread quickly over the small frame structure. The house was enveloped when the heat and smoke aroused the dog and the pet warned his masters.

The house, with its contents, was entirely destroyed, the blaze having gained such headway when firemen arrived, that their efforts were futile.

Firemen believe the blaze was caused by a defective flue. No estimate was placed on the loss, which was only partially covered by insurance.

The property was owned by Henry Smith, this city.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL RESIGNS

Washington, Feb. 18.—The resignation of A. T. Seymour, assistant to the attorney general, who has directed anti-trust prosecutions on behalf of the government, has been submitted to President Coolidge, Seymour announced today.

He will retire shortly after the argument in the case of the Industrial Association of San Francisco versus the United States, in the supreme court. This case, involving a union labor situation, is to be heard the week of March 9.

Seymour will return to his home at Columbus, Ohio, to enter the practice of law.

SUICIDE BRIDGE CLAIMS VICTIM

Cleveland, O., Feb. 18.—"Suicide leap," a span of the high level bridge here, claimed another victim today, when workmen from the Erie railroad coal yard stumbled across the body of an unidentified man, early this morning.

The body was badly crushed, having dropped from nearly 100 feet of space, from the bridge span to the frozen ground below. Apparently an attempt had been made by the victim to light in the river.

The body was taken to the morgue, where it was admitted as a "white man, 60, unidentified."

DR. BURTON DIES

Dr. Marion Leroy Burton, president of the University of Michigan, died early Wednesday morning, after a long illness. He was not only a prominent educator but won considerable recognition by delivering the speech that nominated President Calvin Coolidge at the Republican national convention in Cleveland last summer.

DR. M. L. BURTON DIES WEDNESDAY AFTER ILLNESS

University Head Was Ill
Seventeen Weeks—Made
'Brave Fight'

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 18.—Dr. Marion Leroy Burton, president of the University of Michigan, passed away at 3:20 a. m. today after an illness of seventeen weeks. Failure of his heart to respond to the demands imposed by the relapse suffered last Thursday was named by physicians as the immediate cause of death. He was 50 years of age.

Dr. Burton's illness was diagnosed as pleural pneumonia. Funeral services will probably be private.

Dr. Burton died while sleeping quietly. No member of the family was present when the end came. A nurse who had just taken his pulse, finding it unchanged, heard him sigh deeply. She ran across the hall and summoned Dr. John P. Parsons, who was at the bedside in a moment.

Dr. Burton, however, had already expired.

In the house were Mrs. Burton, their son Paul 19, and their daughter, Jane, 12. Rev. Dr. Harold Emerson Burton of New York, brother of Dr. Burton, came to Ann Arbor last week, but found the patient ill to be seen and returned home Sunday.

Notification was sent to a daughter, Theodosia Burton Stewart, in California.

A meeting of the deans was to be called this morning to take any action which might be deemed proper.

Dr. Harry B. Hutchins, president emeritus of the university, who was recently named one of a committee of three to manage the university pending Dr. Burton's recovery, was to preside at the dean's meeting. It was doubted today whether any move toward appointment of a successor to Dr. Burton would be taken until the regular meeting of the board of regents, February 27.

Dr. Burton's illness started seventeen weeks ago, when he collapsed after introducing Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Arctic explorer, in Hill auditorium. An illness a year previous, before he made his nominating speech for President Calvin Coolidge at the Cleveland Republican convention left this system weakened, physicians said.

WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN WILL BE CARVED ON GIANT GRANITE BLOCK IN BLACK HILLS

Washington, Feb. 18.—The largest sculptured monument in the world will be carved out of a great block of solid granite in the Black Hills of South Dakota, at a point not far from the geographical center of the United States, Gutzon Borglum, world famous sculptor, announced today.

Borglum, who is now carving the glory of the Confederacy on Stone Mountain in Georgia will begin preliminary work on the massive memorial next spring and expects to complete it in four years at a cost of from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

As simple in design as it is monumental in scope the memorial will consist of only two stupendous figures of Washington and Lincoln, standing four hundred feet in height and from thirty-six to forty feet in width, on a background of solid stone 600 feet high—fifty feet higher than the Washington monument.

Borglum's designs for the heads of Washington and Lincoln show that they will be forty feet from brown to chin.

"I expect to carve the figure of Washington as he was at Valley Forge," Borglum asserted today. "A great silent figure in campaign uniform and cocked hat with his hand holding his coat together. Alongside him I will carve Lincoln, bareheaded, with his hand resting on Washington's shoulder. These two figures typify American history—Washington, the builder, and Lincoln, the savior, of the union."

"There will be no secondary figures or decorations, just those two big figures, standing in the beautiful natural surroundings of the Black Hills, gazing over their nation. The cliff on which I will carve them is six hundred feet high so that they

WORKERS SEAL TOMB AND COLLINS IS LEFT IN CAVERNS HE LOVED

Cement Used To Close Natural Grave After Last Rites
Held Over Shaft—Nature Will Cover Resting
Place With Shifting Earth.

Sand Cave, Ky., Feb. 18.—To make sure that Floyd Collins will not be disturbed in his sand cave tomb, seventy-five feet below the surface, workers today were sealing the crevice with cement.

This was decided upon after H. T. Carmichael, chief of the rescue crew which strove frantically to reach Collins, while he was alive, abandoned plans to set off a huge charge of dynamite in the rescue shaft that would shake all the loose rock and talus together.

B. Dyle, owner of the farm on which Sand Cave is located, objected to this procedure.

While Carmichael and engineers were conferring in regard to the last "cleanup" work to be done around the scene of the epic struggle to save a human from death, miners, scientists, engineers, surgeons, military men and scores of others who have assisted in the work, were leaving for their homes in various parts of the country. And the nation was fast forgetting the tragedy in this little mountain village.

Meanwhile Floyd Collins sleeps in the tomb he perhaps would have chosen. There he will sleep forever. Nature, which has sneered and mocked at man's puny efforts to bring him forth, is taking further steps to seal his mausoleum irrevocably.

A great crack appeared at the base of the cliff which overhangs the entrance to the cave. It is now six inches wide and the ground in front of the cliff seems to be sinking. Composed of treacherous shifting muck even before the rescue operations started, the underground strata which have been disturbed by the sinking of the shafts and tunnels again are seeking to adjust themselves. It is likely that the ground will sink until all the natural passageways, have been closed.

Rescue operations were formally abandoned yesterday.

No extensions of the shaft or laterals were attempted. "But please, boys, say it ended in a fight, not a quit," Carmichael asked. "Twenty men would have gone on, even given their lives, if I had said so."

Brief and simple funeral services were held on top of the cliff overlooking Sand Cave entrance and the pit.

HUBBY WAS "FIXER" FOR WILD PARTIES WIFE SAYS IN SUIT

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—That her husband furnished women for "wild parties" staged at local hotels and attended by city councilmen and county commissioners, and where liquor flowed freely, is the claim made by Mrs. Lillian Hendrix in a statement on file today in common pleas court.

The statement is embodied in a cross petition to the divorce suit of her husband, Hubert M. Hendrix, local salesman for a paving brick manufacturing company. Denying her husband's charges of drunkenness and improper conduct, Mrs. Hendrix accused him of extreme cruelty and with becoming intoxication.

According to Mrs. Hendrix, her husband arranged for a number of these alleged parties, at which, it was claimed, contracts for paving materials were discussed.

LEWIS TO ATTEND INAUGURATION TO REPRESENT OHIO

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—Lieutenant Governor Lewis will represent Ohio at inauguration of President Coolidge and Vice President Dawes. Official notice of his selection by Governor Donahay was received today by Lewis.

His military escort will be Adjutant General Henderson and Colonel E. P. Lawler, quartermaster general, O. N. G.

Speaker Silver, of the house, said today that final arrangements for participation in the inaugural ceremonies by a joint committee representing the Ohio legislature will be completed today. The legislature will be represented by Lieutenant Governor Lewis, Speaker Silver and three members each from the house and senate.

The legislature is expected to recess a week over the inaugural period. This will permit finance committees to complete preparation of appropriation bills, it was explained.

DONAHEY WANTS LAW ON TRUCKS ENFORCED

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—Governor Donahay issued a proclamation calling upon sheriffs and county commissioners vigorously to enforce the law against all operators of heavy motor vehicles. Warning was given that no official has authority to issue special permits or grant exemptions of any kind.

Recalling that the season of freezing and thawing, with its attendant "annual destruction of highways" is at hand, and the hundreds of millions of dollars the state has invested in highways, the governor asked citizens to report infractions of the law to proper officials and to aid them in enforcement of the law.

COUGHS OR COLDS BANISHED BY NEW MEDICINAL FOOD

To be rid of coughs and colds once and for all strike at the cause. Many local people are banishing all this suffering and annoyance by taking a new medical food called Coco Cod, pure Norwegian cod liver oil with the taste of rich cocoa.

Doctors are prescribing Coco Cod for young and old who are run-down, nervous and lacking in vital energy. Such folks, they contend, are under-nourished—liable to fall easy prey to coughs, colds or more serious ailments such as pneumonia, influenza, asthma.

Coco Cod arms you with overwhelming energy and vital force that enables you to defy common ills. It sends rich, red blood tingling through your veins. You feel and act years younger because you're alive in every fibre.

Children and adults who cannot take ordinary cod liver oil, find Coco Cod delightful and thrive on it.

Good druggists everywhere have Coco Cod, the new, easy-to-take cod liver oil with the rich cocoa taste. Caution: Coco Cod is sold only in liquid form, in 12-ounce bottles, never in tablets. Best results are obtained with pure Norwegian cod liver oil in original liquid state. In Coco Cod you have the benefit of the finest, purest oil with the taste of rich chocolate. Adv.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

TWO FEATURE BOUTS ON TRIPLE CARD OF TEACHERS' MEETING

Wednesday's Card
Lee Umbles vs. Ralph Fulton
Harry Kilonis vs. Billy Hallas
Gene Wead vs. Jim Miller

Three bouts make up the wrestling program booked for Wednesday evening at Eagles Hall. The first getting under way at 8:30 o'clock.

There will be two main events and the first one will find Lee Umbles, Cuban champion wrestling, Ralph Fulton, Columbus, welter. Both are championship contenders and fans will no doubt see some fast grappling.

Umbles has been going fast in Columbus where he worked for Al Haft. Fans and sport scribes say he is the fastest and cleverest man of his weight that has appeared in Columbus ring.

In the second event of the evening Harry Kilonis, Columbus, 145 pounder will stack up against Billy Hallas of Coshocton. The match will be the best out of three falls.

Kilonis is one of the best welters that has ever appeared in this city. Harry is fast and shifty and plenty tough. He grappled to a draw with Pete Montana Monday night at Dayton.

In meeting Hallas he will be forced to travel at a rapid clip as Hallas demonstrated in Dayton the other night he has the goods when he beat Jack Fulton of Akron taking two straight falls in less than an hour. Hallas, like Kilonis, is fast and plenty strong so fans should see plenty of action when they clash.

The semi-final contest will see Gene Wead of this city opposed to Jim Miller of Akron. Wead, who is a youngster at the mat game, has been coming along nicely and will make his adversary work hard to cop. Miller has grappled here before and let it be said he is a tough nut to crack.

The thoroughly modern comedy causing laughter galore, is based on a mystery plot that holds the attention from start to finish and comes out quite differently from what any one in the audience is expecting. There is no big star part all the people in the cast shine as individuals.

A small company of ladies enjoyed a charming party at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harker on Saturday afternoon. Games and contests were enjoyed but the most pleasant feature of the afternoon was the announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Anna Harper to Mr. Edgar Little, which will occur early in the Spring.

"Not Possible To Classify"

Xenia, Ohio, February 18.-A few jottings of the day by Samuel Pepys, Jr.-Came a card from the gas company telling that if my bill was not paid within a fortnight there would be no more gas for me, so wrote a check and mailed it with no care whatsoever. A right bright sky, and, of a truth, I believe it will not be long until spring fever get me.

Had it in mind to go to the Bible class at the church, but forthwith came a neighbor to talk about the cave tragedy in Kentucky, and too, about the poisonings at Ohio State University, we felt mighty sorrowful both. Heard also some fine comments on what good results Gazette ads get.

In the late afternoon took a stroll to the banks of the river not far below town, where I sat to see if my dog could see any rats or no; but right away came a bunch of rowdies with rifles to shoot, and so noisy they were and profane in their talk that I went back to the city, stopping to hear a radio tune, mighty delightful.

In the evening had my wife read me some Latin, and had good humor to hear her make great attempts at pronouncing which she does with no credit at all, but neither could I pronounce the name of the U. S. Senator from Wisconsin who thought the people wanted him to be president.

When we were ready for bed, almost, came a telephone call from Johnny Kohl, begging help on a cross-word puzzle word, which I could not give, though made a big show of how much I knew. Late to bed and slept well until sun up.

MODISH MITZI-"Just A Little Touch Of Color," Says Mitzi

By Jay V. Jay

"Just a little touch of color makes the whole world fashionable," says Mitzi neatly applying a lipstick of exactly the proper shade of red. "And," she adds, "there are more things than cosmetics that the rule applies to."

There are the new frocks made of flannel or kasha or kasimir in neutral tones; natural, beige, tan, grey. Every one of them is trimmed in some brilliant color-just a dash or a line of it to give the finishing touch of smartness.

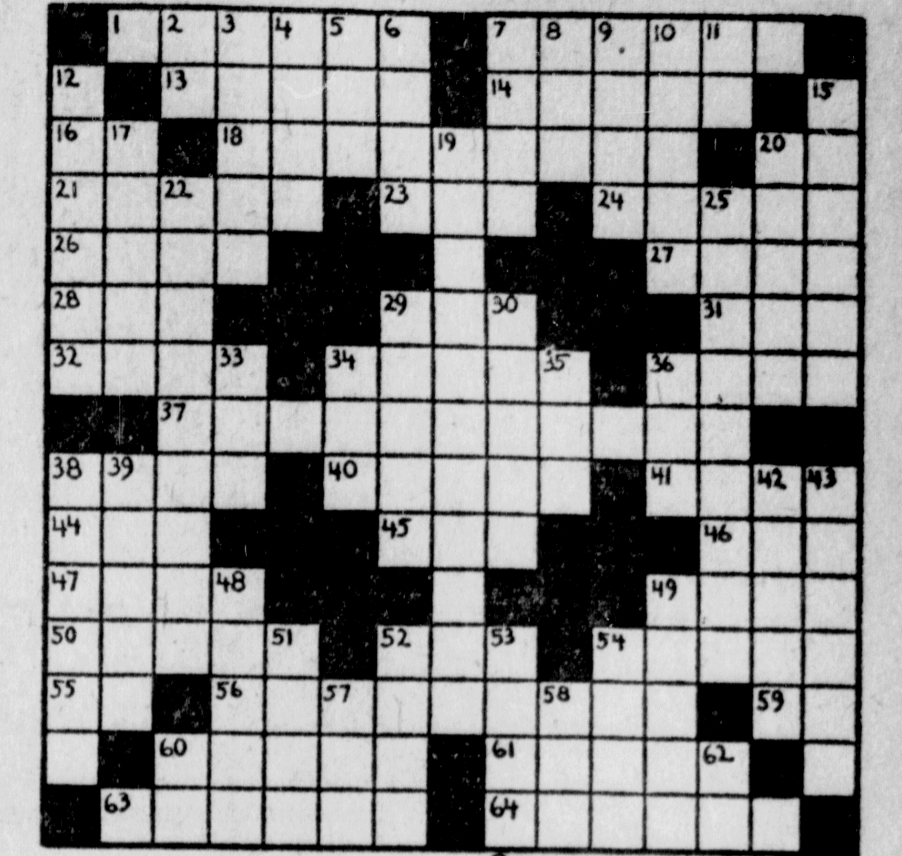

This is crepe de chine, too. A soft grey silk trimmed with crabapple and just suited to Mitzi. This is one of the new fingertip blouses to be worn with a pleated skirt. "A little color goes a long way," reflects Mitzi looking at herself with a satisfied air.

The dress in the second sketch was of natural kasha trimmed with red piping and red buttons. This dress is of beige crepe de chine trimmed with apple green and bright salmon-not much of either color and just enough of both.

There's Real Medicine Now For Stubborn Hang-On Coughs

When nothing seems to do that on coughs, and that's exactly what it does-quickly and thoroughly. There is no dope in Bronchiline Emulsion, nor chloroform, nor sugar-such things are only makeshifts and should be taken with the greatest caution.

For ordinary simple coughs two or three doses of Bronchiline Emulsion is usually enough.

WILMINGTON MAN KILLED IN EFFORT TO BOARD FREIGHT

Ray Pennington, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Pennington, Wilmington, was instantly killed by a Pennsylvania freight train which he attempted to board at Coshocton, Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Letters and papers found in Pennington's pockets led Coshocton officials to believe he was from Wilmington and several hours elapsed before his home was located at Wilmington.

Pennington left Wilmington last Wednesday with Ennis Fleming, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Fleming, Kingman, to look for work. It is believed they were bound for Newburgh, Pa., when Pennington met his death. Fleming was not with Pennington at the time.

The remains arrived in Wilmington Sunday afternoon and funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the parents' home. Interment was made in Sugar Grove Cemetery, Wilmington.

Pennington is survived by his parents, a brother, Ralph, at home; Harry Baker, Xenia, a half-brother; and his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah McPherson, of Clarksville.

He was preceded in death by a wife who died eight years ago and another brother, who was killed by a train twenty-one years ago.

BRINGING UP FATHER

One Wife on Approval by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA AND JIM LELAND return from their honeymoon to his home town, where his mother promptly begins to try to make Cynthia over. She has accepted the girl merely on approval. Cynthia finds it difficult to get along with her sister-in-law.

LOUELLA GRAY, also, but likes her brother-in-law, Stanley. She meets

NOEL GARDNER while her husband is out of town on business partly concerned with some bad investments that his mother has made.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XVI-A NEW ACQUAINTANCE

CYNTHIA could not help feeling, as she entered the drawing-room with the other women, that there was hostility toward her in the air. Louella with a new air of confidence entered the drawing room and entered into conversation with the only other woman present whom Cynthia knew at all well. Mrs. Atwater busied herself with one of the guests who was always asked to bring, always protected that she couldn't, and finally sang until everyone wished that she would strangle to death.

Cynthia glanced about aimlessly, and finally sat down near a table on which were several of the large books of reproductions of famous paintings which women like Mrs. Atwater invariably place on their drawing tables. She was affecting interest in the Sistine Madonna when a voice at her elbow said: "Hello, Mrs. Leland—you don't know me, but I'm Cecile Malcolm; you and I missed each other in the general introduction. And this is Helena Jordan—you'll love her, my dear."

Cynthia, grateful for the friendly overture, held out her hand eagerly. "Oh, I'm so glad to meet you," she exclaimed.

"Well, I'm glad to meet you, too; why we haven't run into each other before this I don't see, with all these parties that have been given for you since you arrived. But I've been away and busy; and all that I wonder—don't you want to come into the conservatory? It's so much pleasanter in there than here, especially as that Logan woman is going to sing."

Cynthia followed her into the conservatory, and sat down on a wide wicker couch opposite the door. Her new friend, sitting just out of range of it, took a cigarette bag that dangled from her wrist, offered Cynthia a cigarette, and took one herself. Mrs. Jordan had already begun to smoke.

"You'll have to smoke, my dear, to keep your spirits up at this party. Though I noticed that you found it gay enough—you sat next Noel Gardner, you lucky thing!"

"And next Stanley," murmured Helena Jordan, lazily.

"Oh, my dear, remember that he's her brother-in-law—don't expect her to be as thrilled over that as you'd have been," chirped Cecile Malcolm, laughing. Then to Cynthia: "Helena has a terrible crush on Stanley—probably you know it, though? Well, she has as the whole town is aware. Madame Leland would give her poisoned green if it could be done on the sly. Now tell me, do you play golf? Heaven grant that you do! That's fine—why not come out to the Country Club tomorrow and have a round with me? My game's not so bad, but I'm sure that yours is much better. I can tell by looking at you that you do everything well."

Cynthia told herself that this was just idle flattery, and tried not to show that she was pleased. She had been so lonely since settling in her new home that it was a delight to find anyone who was inclined to be friendly.

"I haven't played for ages," she told Cecile. "I'd love to begin again."

"Then that's a go. Meet me at the club for luncheon, won't you? Tell me, do you know Noel Gardner well?"

"No—do you?" asked Cynthia.

"Do I? My dear child, I'm one of the few women in this town who dares admit that she's been an intimate friend of his. I don't know just what our status is at present; haven't had a long talk with the dear thing since he came home. When he went away relations between us were somewhat strained—through no fault of mine, however. Oh, well—you'll hear all the details before long, because the town talked so hard about us before he went away that it's bound to talk again now that he's home."

She lighted a fresh cigarette from the butt of the old one, tossed the latter into a clump of ferns that grew at the edge of a little pool, and glancing up, nodded affably. Cynthia, turning, looked to see to whom she had spoken, and saw Noel Gardner standing before her.

"I'm Cecile Malcolm."

"There's a painting in the drawing-room that I'd like you to see," he said to Cynthia, after greeting them both. "Won't you come with me and look at it?"

She rose, wondering at the rather abrupt invitation, and sauntered back into the room with him. She realized that several of the women were staring at her, and laid their attention to her frock, which was quite the prettiest one present. When they reached the picture she barely looked at it, but turned to Gardner.

"While there's a chance for me to ask you without being overheard—will you let me see you sometime tomorrow—on business? It's very important." She spoke in such low tones that even Louella, who sat nearby, could not overhear.

"Yes, certainly." He hesitated a moment, evidently recalling his engagements for the following day. "How about coming to my office at eleven? It's in the Winsted Building—do you know where that is?"

She nodded, and smiled up at him gratefully.

"I'll be there promptly," she told him. "It's awfully good of you to see me, when you'll be so busy, after being away for so long."

He smiled also. "It could never be good of me to see you," he replied. "When I'd rather do that than anything else in the world."

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

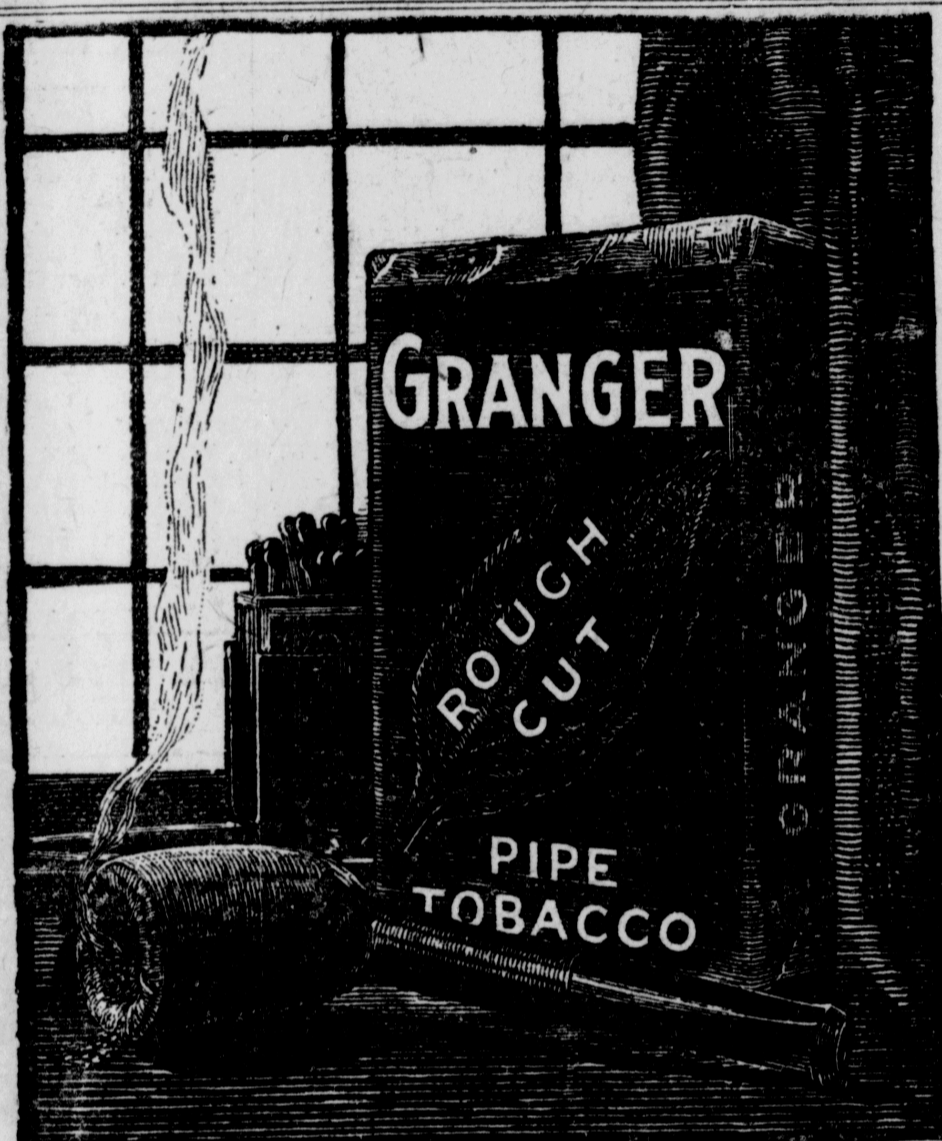

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

London, Feb. 18.—King George's condition was said to be satisfactory today after a restful night. It was learned that he had rested comfortably despite the bronchitis-influenza condition from which he has suffered since Saturday.

The Evening News said the king would be able to attend to urgent business today.

For a time yesterday the king's physicians were concerned about his condition. It was said, and now they are taking every precaution to ward off possible complications which would be pneumonia.

The king remained in bed to guard against cold and undue exertion. Trained nurses are in attendance.

Only the usual crowds were outside the palace. The official bulletin was posted up on the palace gate following the traditional custom when a king is seriously ill.

POLICE CHIEF'S SON IS INDICTED FOR CHEMIST'S MURDER

Ashland, O., Feb. 18.—Ill with quinsy, Carlos Gorman, indicted last night by special grand jury here on the charge of second degree murder, with a count for manslaughter in the killing of a rubber chemist, John Dalton, on October 29, 1924, will probably not be arraigned today.

Attorney General Crabbe and Sherman Dorton, Urbana attorney, were in charge of the special investigation which Governor Donahey authorized after a grand jury last November failed to indict any of the nine local and county enforcement officers in the posse at the time Dalton, who lived northwest of Ashland, was shot.

Gorman, who is 26, is the son of the Ashland chief of police, a former traffic officer and had been made a special officer on the night the posse started out on the liquor search.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 18.—Police were making every effort today to learn the identity of a young man lying in a hospital in a critical condition as a result of being struck by a rapidly moving interurban street car. The only semblance of identification found on him was a bill, bearing the name Kenneth Higgins, from the Brook Hardware and Harness Company of Harrisonburg, Va.

NAMES OF BLOOM AND HUFFMAN SENT TO SENATE—BIBLE BILL IS LOST

Collister Home Rule Bus Bill Before House For Passage — Many New Bills Are Introduced Before Time Limit.

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—Appointments by Governor Donahey of former Lieutenant Governor Earl D. Bloom, Bowling Green, and James W. Huffman, Zanesville, both Democrats, as members of the state utilities commission are expected to be sent today to the senate for confirmation.

The legislative mill will continue work on long calendars while further floods of new bills are expected, in anticipation of the closing of the bill introduction period next Monday night.

No outstanding measures are on the calendars for final passage today. The house will have before it for final passage Thursday afternoon the Collister city home rule bus bill. The famous conspiracy bill, defeated two years ago, will appear again today on the legislative calendar when a new measure, sponsored by Representative Ball, Scioto County, will be up for second reading and reference to committee in the house.

The measure provides maximum fines $10,000 and two years imprisonment for conspiring to violate any law of the state or a subdivision.

The Bible bill that would have required reading of scriptures each day in the public schools of Ohio came to a dramatic end in the house yesterday.

With a pending amendment it was committed to the table from which it probably never would be taken during the present session.

The untimely death of the measure was encompassed through a parliamentary trick of its opponent aided by several unsuspecting friends.

Defeat was bitter for its advocates, who charged that "gag rule" had been employed in sending the bill to its death.

Legislative leaders today made it clear that they propose to go ahead with the Republican permanent tax program, despite objections by Governor Donahey.

Two measures, now being studied by the governor with a view to a conference later, with legislative leaders, looking toward a compromise on tax legislation, both carrying home rule provisions, to meet the governor's wishes are scheduled today to be made special order in the house for next Tuesday afternoon when they will be called up for passage.

One is the Tallentire bill, providing that charter cities may, by vote of the people, fix their own tax limitations and, also setting up a complete budget system for cities.

The other is the Dodd bill, permitting subdivisions to authorize by vote of the people, extra levies either for running expenses, sinking funds or for special permanent improvements outside of present tax limitations.

In addition to his scheduled appointments to membership on the state utilities commission, Governor Donahey is also expected to send to the senate for confirmation his appointments of a member of the state tax commission to succeed Chairman S. E. Forney, whose term expired February 2, of three trustees of Ohio State University, and a member of the state civil service commission.

It was generally understood in legislative circles that the governor would name Charles Follett, a practicing attorney of Cleveland, as the member of the tax commission. Mr. Follett, who served as an assistant attorney general under Attorney General McGhee has been the governor's adviser on tax legislation now pending before the general assembly.

William D. Fairbanks, 67, brother of N. H. Fairbanks, Springfield, and uncle of Mrs. H. C. Messenger, this city, died Monday at Deaconess Hospital, Cincinnati, of pneumonia, following an operation.

Funeral services were held in Springfield Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of his sister, Mrs. M. D. Milligan, 1029 South Fountain Avenue. Burial was made in the Fairbanks family plot in Ferncliff Cemetery.

The court ordered the counsel for Princess Chekier in her action for divorce told the court today that the yacht trip which her husband made with the former Sidi Wirt Spreckels of San Francisco was premeditated and arranged by correspondence.

When Princess Chekier met the couple at the dock on their return it was a great surprise to them counsel said.

The judge asked for proof of counsel's assertion. The attorney for defense denied the yacht trip was a romantic episode. A third party accompanied the couple, he declared.

Counsel for Princess Chekier then brought forward evidence which he said "would prove there had been misconduct without love."

Black Hand Or Business Enemies Are Blamed For Dynamiting

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 18.—Incendiary dynamite explosions blasted terror into the center of the wholesale produce district and demolished three buildings here today with a loss of $130,000 according to fire department officials.

Firemen are digging in tons of debris, following reports that five men might have been trapped, but owners of the buildings are certain no one was caught in the explosion.

Police believe the bombings may have been the work of a blackhand gang or by business rivals of the Landolina Brothers Produce Company, whose buildings were destroyed.

The force of the explosion broke windows for two blocks. Residents of the neighborhood, thrown from their beds by the shocks, said a series of sharp reports followed the first blast.

Police guards were rushed to the district to guard the William Penn Trust Company, next door to the Landolina building and the Franklin Savings and Trust Company, across the street.

The thick masonry sidewalk of the adjoining bank was bulged in and every breakable fixture smashed to the floor.

FAITHFUL DOG SAVES COUPLE FROM FIRE HERE

A faithful dog saved the lives of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hamilton, Lexington Avenue, early Wednesday when it aroused them in time to escape from their burning dwelling.

Awakened by the dog jumping on their bed, and barking, the couple was able to flee the house in their night clothes, just before the burning room collapsed.

The freestarted about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, and spread quickly over the small frame structure. The house was enveloped when the heat and smoke aroused the dog and the pet warned his masters.

The house, which was entirely destroyed, the blaze having gained such headway when firemen arrived, that their efforts were futile.

Firemen believe the blaze was caused by a defective flue. No estimate was placed on the loss, which was only partially covered by insurance.

The property was owned by Henry Smith, this city.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL RESIGNS

Washington, Feb. 18.—The resignation of A. T. Seymour, assistant to the attorney general, who has directed anti-trust prosecutions on behalf of the government, has been submitted to President Coolidge, Seymour announced today.

He will retire shortly after the argument in the case of the Industrial Association of San Francisco versus the United States, in the supreme court.

This case, involving a union labor situation, is to be heard the week of March 9.

Seymour will return to his home at Columbus, Ohio, to enter the practice of law.

SUICIDE BRIDGE CLAIMS VICTIM

Cleveland, O., Feb. 18.—"Suicide leap," a span of the high level bridge here, claimed another victim today, when workmen from the Erie railroad coal yard stumbled across the body of an unidentified man, early this morning.

The body was badly crushed, having dropped through nearly 100 feet of space, from the bridge span to the frozen ground below. Apparently an attempt had been made by the victim to light in the river.

The body was taken to the morgue, where it was admitted as a "white man, 60, unidentified."

Sidi Wirt was a Kansas farm girl. She met John D. Spreckels, son of a wealthy Californian, in Chicago in 1915 while she was studying for a stage career. She sued in the California courts for divorce in 1921.

While the action was pending, Spreckels was killed in an automobile accident near Taft, California in 1923. Mrs. Spreckels married Prince Suad Chakir. She has a palace in Constantinople.

DR. BURTON DIES

Dr. Marion Leroy Burton, president of the University of Michigan, died early Wednesday morning, after a long illness. He was not only a prominent educator but won considerable recognition by delivering the speech that nominated President Calvin Coolidge at the Republican national convention in Cleveland last summer.

DR. M. L. BURTON DIES WEDNESDAY AFTER ILLNESS

University Head Was Ill Seventeen Weeks—Made 'Brave Fight'

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 18.—Dr. Marion Leroy Burton, president of the University of Michigan, passed away at 3:20 a. m. today after an illness of seventeen weeks. Failure of his heart to respond to the demands imposed by the relapse suffered last Thursday was named by physicians as the immediate cause of death. He was 50 years of age.

Dr. Burton's illness was diagnosed as pleural pneumonia. Funeral services will probably be private.

Dr. Burton died while sleeping quietly. No member of the family was present when the end came. A nurse who had just taken his pulse, finding it unchanged, heard him sigh deeply. She ran across the hall and summoned Dr. John P. Parsons, who was at the bedside in a moment.

Dr. Burton, however, had already expired.

In the house were Mrs. Burton, their son Paul 19, and their daughter, Jane, 12. Rev. Dr. Harold Emerson Burton of New York, brother of Dr. Burton, came to Ann Arbor last week, but found the patient ill to be seen and returned home Sunday.

Notification was sent to a daughter, Theodosia Burton Stewart, in California.

A meeting of the deans was to be called this morning to take any action which might be deemed proper.

Dr. Harry B. Hutchins, president emeritus of the university, who was recently named one of a committee of three to manage the university pending Dr. Burton's recovery, was to preside at the dean's meeting. It was doubted today whether any move toward appointment of a successor to Dr. Burton would be taken until the regular meeting of the board of regents, February 27.

Dr. Burton's illness started seventeen weeks ago, when he collapsed after introducing Vilhelm Stenstrom, Arctic explorer, in Hill auditorium. An illness a year previous, before he made his nominating speech for President Calvin Coolidge at the Cleveland Republican convention left his system weakened, physicians said.

WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN WILL BE CARVED ON GIANT GRANITE BLOCK IN BLACK HILLS

Washington, Feb. 18.—The largest sculptured monument in the world will be carved out of a great block of solid granite in the Black Hills of South Dakota, at a point not far from the geographical center of the United States. Guisom Borglum, world famous sculptor, announced today.

Borglum, who is now carving the glory of the Confederacy on Stone Mountain in Georgia will begin preliminary work on the massive memorial next spring and expects to complete it in four years at a cost of from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

As simple in design as it is monumental in scope the memorial will consist of only two stupendous figures of Washington and Lincoln, standing four hundred feet in height and from thirty-six to forty feet in width, on a background of solid stone 600 feet high—fifty feet higher than the Washington monument.

Borglum's designs for the heads of Washington and Lincoln show that they will be forty feet from brown to chin.

"I expect to carve the figure of Washington as he was at Valley Forge," Borglum explained today. "A great silent figure in campaign uniform and cocked hat with his hand holding his coat together. Alongside him I will carve Lincoln, bareheaded, with his hand resting on Washington's shoulder. Those two figures typify American history—the savior, the builder, and Lincoln, the savior, of the union."

"There will be no secondary figures or decorations, just those two big figures, standing in the beautiful natural surroundings of the Black Hills, gazing over their nation. The cliff on which I will carve them is six hundred feet high so that they can be seen from fifty miles away.

"Carving Stone Mountain is an attempt to put back in the nation's record for all time just what great good resulted from a Civil War that was necessary to complete the work at which the politicians had failed, to forge a union of self determining states that is indivisible. In carving the giant monolith in South Dakota we will forever preserve in monumental form the great influences through which our country exists as exemplified by Washington and Lincoln."

The stupendous sculpturing to be undertaken by the famous artist will be on a granite cliff standing in a 9,000 acre state park in the heart of the Black Hills along the western boundary of the State, sixty miles from the nearest town, Rapid City. The entire area is virgin country, timberland and mountains cutting a jagged skyline against the blue western sky.

"And the natural beauty of the Black Hills will not be disturbed," Borglum asserted today, "but will give the setting necessary to visualize in stone the power and sweep of our civilization through its very simplicity and magnificence."

Preliminary work is being financed by citizens of South Dakota, but a bill is now pending in congress through which the memorial will receive $100,000 from royalties on an aerial bomb invented by Lester P. Harlow. Incorporated in the bill, a claim against the government for $400,000, is the provision that one third will go to the memorial, one third to the Stone Mountain memorial and one sixth each to the Cleveland Museum of Art, and the Cleveland Maternity Hospital.

WORKERS SEAL TOMB AND COLLINS IS LEFT IN CAVERNS HE LOVED

Cement Used To Close Natural Grave After Last Rites Held Over Shaft—Nature Will Cover Resting Place With Shifting Earth.

Sand Cave, Ky., Feb. 18.—To make sure that Floyd Collins will not be disturbed in his sand cave tomb, seventy-five feet below the surface, workers today were sealing the crevice with cement.

This was decided upon after H. T. Carmichael, chief of the rescue crew which strove frantically to reach Collins, while he was alive, abandoned plans to set off a huge charge of dynamite in the rescue shaft that would shake all the loose rock and talus together.

B. Dyle, owner of the farm on which Sand Cave is located, objected to this procedure.

While Carmichael and engineers were conferring in regard to the last "cleanup" work to be done around the scene of the epic struggle to save a human from death, miners, scientists, engineers, surgeons, military men and scores of others who have assisted in the work, were leaving for their homes in various parts of the country. And the nation was fast forgetting the tragedy in this little mountain village.

Meanwhile Floyd Collins sleeps in the tomb he perhaps would have chosen. There he will sleep forever. Nature, which has sneered and mocked at man's puny efforts to bring him forth, is taking further steps to seal his mausoleum irrevocably.

A great crack appeared at the base of the cliff which overhangs the entrance to the cave. It is now six inches wide and the ground in front of the cliff seems to be sinking. Composed of treacherous shifting mud even before the rescue operations started, the underground strata which have been disturbed by the sinking of the shafts and tunnels again are seeking to adjust themselves. It is likely that the ground will sink until all the natural passageways, have been closed.

Rescue operations were formally abandoned yesterday.

No extensions of the shaft or lateral ones were attempted. "But please, boys, say it ended in a fight, not a quit," Carmichael asked. "Twenty men would have gone on, even given their lives, if I had said so."

Brief and simple funeral services were held on top of the cliff overlooking Sand Cave entrance and the pit.

where the rescue fight was waged. The Rev. C. K. Dick, pastor of the Horse Cave and Cave City Methodist Churches, was in charge of the service, assisted by the Rev. Roy H. Bizer of the Glasgow Christian Church.

Several hundred folks from the hills and towns around gathered about the preachers, there was a song by the Cave City combined choir, reading of Scriptures, a sermon of thanks to the world and the rescuers, and Collins was left to sleep in the caverns that he loved and explored in life.

"I shot him—I didn't mean to do it," the Sandy youth sobbed to the police. The juvenile authorities are making an investigation but they declare that it is doubtful if Sandy will be held accountable because of his extreme youth.

HUBBY WAS "FIXER" FOR WILD PARTIES WIFE SAYS IN SUIT

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—That her husband furnished women for "wild parties" staged at local hotels and attended by city councilmen and county commissioners, and where liquor flowed freely, is the claim made by Mrs. Lillian Hendrix in a statement on file today in common pleas court.

The statement is embodied in a cross petition to the divorce suit of her husband, Hubert M. Hendrix, local salesman for a paving brick manufacturing company. Denying her husband's charges of drunkenness and improper conduct, Mrs. Hendrix accused him of extreme cruelty and with becoming intoxication.

According to Mrs. Hendrix, her husband arranged for a number of these alleged parties, at which, it was claimed, contracts for paving materials were discussed.

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—Lieutenant Governor Lewis will represent Ohio at inauguration of President Coolidge and Vice President Dawes. Official notice of his selection by Governor Donahey was received today by Lewis.

His military escort will be Adjutant General Henderson and Colonel E. P. Lawler, quartermaster general, O. N. G.

Speaker Silver, of the house, said today that final arrangements for participation in the inaugural ceremonies by a joint committee representing the Ohio legislature will be completed today. The legislature will be represented by Lieutenant Governor Lewis, Speaker Silver and three members each from the house and senate.

The legislature is expected to recess a week over the inaugural period. This will permit finance committees to complete preparation of appropriation bills, it was explained.

DONAHEY WANTS LAW ON TRUCKS ENFORCED

Columbus, O., Feb. 18.—Governor Donahey issued a proclamation calling upon sheriffs and county commissioners vigorously to enforce the law against all operators of heavy motor vehicles. Warning was given that no official has authority to issue special permits or grant exemptions of any kind.

Recalling that the season of freezing and thawing, with its attendant "annual destruction of highways" is at hand, and the hundreds of millions of dollars the state has invested in highways, the governor asked citizens to report infractions of the law to proper officials and to aid them in enforcement of the law.

COUGHS OR COLDS BANISHED BY NEW MEDICINAL FOOD

To be rid of coughs and colds once and for all strike at the cause. Many local people are banishing all this suffering and annoyance by taking a new medical food called Coco Cod, pure Norwegian cod liver oil with the taste of rich cocoa.

Doctors are prescribing Coco Cod for young and old who are run-down, nervous and lacking in vital energy. Such folks, they contend, are under-nourished—liable to fall easy prey to coughs, colds or more serious ailments such as pneumonia, influenza, asthma.

Coco Cod arms you with overwhelming energy and vital force that enables you to defy common ills. It sends rich, red blood tingling through your veins. You feel and act years younger because you're alive in every fibre.

Children and adults who cannot take ordinary cod liver oil find Coco Cod delightful and thrive on it. Good druggists everywhere have Coco Cod, the new, easy-to-take cod liver oil with the rich cocoa taste.

Caution: Coco Cod is sold only in liquid form, in 12-ounce bottles, never in tablets. Best results are obtained with pure Norwegian cod liver oil in original liquid state. In Coco Cod you have the benefit of the finest, purest oil with the taste of rich chocolate. Adv.

BETTER GET TO BUSINESS

SPECTACULAR political diversions continues to occupy the time and attention of the Senate, despite the fact that there is enough real business on hand to occupy it until the end of the session. What matters the World Court or the Isle of Pines Treaty or any of the really vital questions before it so long as they can haggle over the nomination of Attorney General Stone as Justice of the United States Supreme court? The debate has not taken place in executive session, as is customary; it has been dragged out upon the floor, and much indignant oratory has been the consequence. Sometimes it is very hard for us to maintain due respect for our legislators.

The sum of Mr. Stone's offending is seeking the indictment of Senator Wheeler on a serious charge. But the defendant is not the stuff of which martyrs are made. Mr. Stone promptly stated the case to the Senate Judiciary Committee in open session. He gave, so far as consistent with public interest, the grounds for his action. It was his duty as Attorney General, in view of the evidence which had come to him, to act. Had he chosen to evade this duty he might have done so. He might have waited a few days, until he was safely confirmed, and turned the case over to his successor. That is not the way of one who has always observed the best traditions of his profession. The obvious conclusion is that he is just the man for a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the land.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE

DESPITE the fact that this is recognized as "an age of wonders," the announcement from Washington that the government is to no longer be bound and gagged and handicapped by red tape, seems almost too good to be true.

Once upon a time red tape was just a useful flat strip of coarse woven fibre which the government bought in immense spools and used for tying up documents and packages. That was long, long ago, before red tape attained a personality of its own and took charge of the science of government. For long it has been a symbol of delay, of devious windings and senseless formalities in our public business, a sort of diabolus ex machina, an evil genie that none could coax back into the bottle.

Now it has been decided to exile red tape from Washington. The man who has issued the order is General Lord, Director of the Budget. He has decreed that plain white string shall take the place of the traditional bindings for official packages. String costs less than the tape, and also, according to the General, has a plain and simple business identity with none of the bad psychological influences wielded by its unlamented predecessor. All of which sounds well, but we have our doubts that red tape can be ousted in spirit as easily as in substance.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

LEFT-OVERS

I sing the meals we have alone,
The pickings from a chicken bone.
The stuff warmed over, beef or lamb,
The relics from our last week's ham.
The gleanings from the pantry shelves,
Considered fit for just ourselves;
To these sweet morsels of delight
This song of gratitude I write.

Long wearied of your banquet boards,
And all the menu card affords,
I pass by guinea hen to sing
The praises of some humble thing.
I hail that simpler meal prepared
For us alone, and never shared.

That meal o'er which she'd blush for shame
If unexpected company came.

These rouse my jaded appetite:
The "pickings" saved for Sunday night,
It suits my palate's fondest wish
To loiter round a jelly dish:
I need no chef from gay Pa-ree
To get a fancy meal for me.
I'm happiest when we're alone
To pick the morsels from a bone.

On no one else will she bestow
The little luxuries I know.
How sweet these dainty morsels taste,
Too poor to serve, too good to waste;
So to each small, left-over thing
A simple song of praise I sing.
No meal however rich it be,
Surpasses this—our Sunday tea.

1905-Twenty Years Ago-1925

The Xenia High School basketball team got nicely trimmed Friday night at Cedarville by the Cedarville High School team, to the tune of 23 to 12.

What promises to be one of the greatest basketball games ever played in Xenia will take place this evening at the rink. Piqua will defend its title of Y. M. C. A. champions against the local Y. M. C. A. Each team has won a game in the series and this third game decides.

cook for four minutes with the pan covered, which makes it tender.

The Frying-Only Method: After cutting up two young chickens, dust with salt and pepper, dip in flour, then cook slowly in one pound of fat salt pork which has previously been cut small and tried out in a hot frying pan. It must be tender and well browned before served with a White Sauce made of half sweet milk and half sweet cream. This is the Southern Method.

Old New England Method: Season the disjointed young chicken with salt and pepper and dredge generously with flour. Brown in plenty of hot fat, then cover and cook slowly for 30 minutes. This covering-the-pan method steams the chicken and helps to make it tender. Make a gravy with flour and milk as above suggested.

Rheumatism

"Yes! it's all gone."

DO NOT close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. You can get rid of your rheumatism by building up your blood power. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

DREAMS

The most unhappy and discontented people you meet are those who have had too many dreams come true.

The fact that it is a bad thing for too many dreams to come true. We would read few books did they not make us dream our way through. We would grow sluggish and uninteresting in our tread toward success were it not for the fact that we keep dreaming a dream. We have no idea to whether it will come true or not. We believe that it will, however, and so have incentive to go on and on.

No one has ever been able to give a receipt for a good dream. But we do know that great toll determination, alertness, and faith enter very materially into its making.

When we see a play and the action drags during the first or second acts, we dream of the happy and thrilling end. And that is what takes the unhappy taste out of our mouths in case the end disappoints us.

The greatest deer is always the biggest dreamer.

It's the big beyond that keeps tempting us on like the handful of hay in front of the lazy or tired horse.

We always believe that our fondest dreams will come true. They rarely do. But other dreams which we have never dreamed so often take their place that we have little complaining to do.

If you can't dream you might as well rot out our life.

Oscar Wilde once said that "a worse tragedy than never getting what you want—is to get it." If our dreams were regularly coming true, we would soon stunt our ability to dream greatly and do worthily.

I want to know how to stimulate my dreams, to make them bigger and make more of them.

Dr. Brim is the author of "Rural Education" which is used as a textbook in the Greene County Normal School. The entertaining features of the program will be in the hands of the school teachers from the southwest side of the county, headed by W. R. Savers. Music will be furnished by the combined Spring Valley and Beaver Creek Orchestras and other numbers will include vocal solos, trios, and other music.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

TWO FEATURE BOUTS ON TRIPLE CARD OF MAT SHOW WEDNESDAY

Wednesday's Card
Lee Umbles vs. Ralph Fulton
Harry Kilonis vs. Billy Hallas
Gene Wead vs. Jim Miller

Three bouts make up the wrestling program booked for Wednesday evening at Eagles Hall. The first getting under way at 8:30 o'clock.

There will be two main events and the first one will find Lee Umbles, Cuban champion, wrestling Ralph Fulton, Columbus, welter. Both are championship contenders and fans will no doubt see some fast grappling.

Umbles has been going good in Columbus where he worked for Al Haft. Umbles and sport coaches say he is the fastest and cleverest man of his weight that has appeared in Columbus ring.

In the second event of the evening Harry Kilonis, Columbus, 145 pounder will stack up against Billy Hallas of Coshocton. The match will be the best out of three falls.

Kilonis is one of the best welter mat has ever appeared in this city. Hallas is fast and shifty and plenty tough. He grappled to a draw with Pete Montana Monday night at Dayton.

In meeting Hallas he will be forced to travel at a rapid clip as Hallas demonstrated in Dayton the other night he has the goods when he beat Jack Fulton of Akron taking two straight falls in less than an hour.

Hallas, like Kilonis, is fast and plenty strong so fans should see plenty of action when they clash.

The semi-final contest will see Gene Wead of this city opposed to Jim Miller of Akron. Wead, who is a youngster at the mat game, has been coming along nicely and will make his adversary work hard to cop. Miller has grappled here before and let it be said he is a tough nut to crack.

Xenia, Ohio, February 18.-A few jottings of the day by Samuel Pepys, Jr.-Came a card from the gas company telling that if my bill was not paid within a fortnight there would be no more gas for me, so wrote a check and mailed it with no care whatsoever. A right bright sky, and, of a truth, I believe it will not be long until spring fever get me.

Had in mind to go to the Bible class at the church, but forthwith came a neighbor to talk about the cave tragedy in Kentucky, and too, about the poisonings at Ohio State University, we feel mighty sorrowful for both. Heard also some fine comments on what good results Gazette ads get.

In the late afternoon took a stroll to the banks of the river not far below town, where I sat to see if my dog could see any rats or no; but right away came a bunch of rowdies with rifles to shoot, and so noisy they were and profane in their talk that I went back to the city, stopping to hear a radio tune, mighty delightful.

In the evening had my wife read me some Latin, and had good humor to hear her make great attempts at pronouncing which she does with no credit at all, but neither could I pronounce the name of the U. S. Senator from Wisconsin who thought the people wanted him to be president.

When we were ready for bed, almost, came a telephone call from Johnny Kohl, begging help on a crossword puzzle word, which I could not give, though made a big show of how much I knew. Late to bed and slept well until sun up.

WILMINGTON MAN KILLED IN EFFORT TO BOARD FREIGHT

Ray Pennington, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Pennington, of Wilmington, was instantly killed by a Pennsylvania freight train which he had attempted to board at Coshocton, Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Letters and papers found in Pennington's pockets led Coshocton officials to believe he was from Wellington and several hours elapsed before his home was located at Wilmington. Pennington left Wilmington last Wednesday with Ennis Fleming, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Fleming, Kingman, Pa., to look for work. It is believed they were bound for Newburgh, Pa., when Pennington met his death. Fleming was not with Pennington at the time.

The remains arrived in Wilmington Sunday afternoon and funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the parents' home. Interment was made in Sugar Grove Cemetery, Wilmington.

Pennington is survived by his parents, a brother, Ralph, at home; Harry Baker, Xenia, a half-brother; and his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah McPherson, of Clarksville.

He was preceded in death by his wife who died eight years ago and another brother, who was killed by a train twenty-one years ago.

TAX PAYMENTS

What are "Treasury Certificates" and why are they issued?

The Federal Government has two ways of financing its requirements: It may issue long term bonds to cover the costs of such things as wars and improvements. For its immediate everyday needs taxes are presumed to provide the funds; and the do. By far the largest part of the Government's revenue is derived from income taxes on corporations. These taxes are usually paid in quarterly installments.

Between the quarterly payments of taxes the Government goes into the market, thru the Treasury Department, and borrows funds and gives in return its note known as Treasury Certificates. These Certificates usually run from three to six months and fall due the month when taxes are payable.

By such a method of financing its requirements the Government does not find itself with a large amount of cash on hand one month and an empty till the next. Because of the shortness of the maturity of these Treasury Certificates very few find their way into the hands of the public. They are subscribed for by the banking institutions.

Rub on Good Old Musterole That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it relieves.

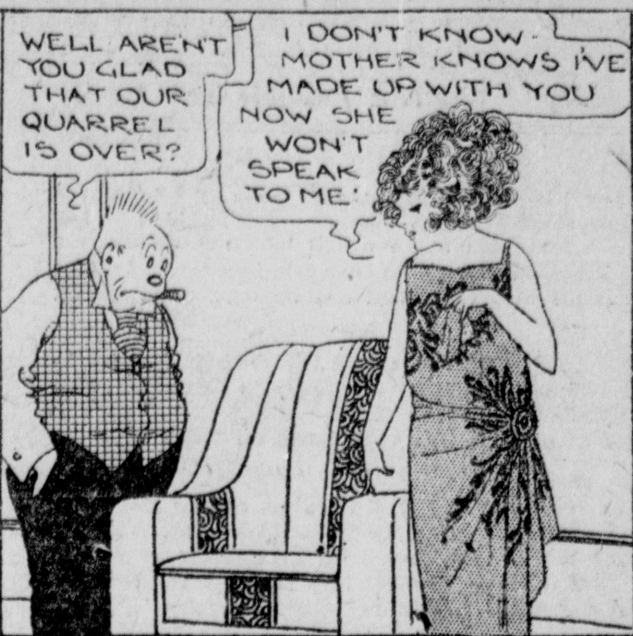

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

BRINGING UP FATHER

One Wife on Approval

AUTHOR OF "Luxury of Love," "The Husband Bamer," etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA AND JIM LELAND return from their honeymoon to his home town, where his mother promptly begins to try to make Cynthia over. She has accepted the girl merely on approval. Cynthia finds it difficult to get along with her sister-in-law.

LOUELLA GRAY, also, but likes her brother-in-law, Stanley. She meets NOEL GARDNER while her husband is out of town on business partly concerned with some bad investments that his mother has made.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XVI—A NEW ACQUAINTANCE

CYNTHIA could not help feeling, as she entered the drawing-room with the other women, that there was hostility toward her in the air. Louella withdrew at once to the Chesterfield near the fire and entered into conversation with the only other woman present whom Cynthia knew at all well. Mrs. A. T. Water, busy as she was with one of the guests who was always asked to sing, always protected that she couldn't, and finally sang until everyone wished that she would strangle to death.

Cynthia glanced about aimlessly, and finally sat down near a table on which were several of the large books of reproductions of famous paintings which women like Mrs. Atwater invariably place on their drawing tables. She was affecting interest in the Sistine Madonna when a voice at her elbow said: "Hello, Mrs. Leland—you don't know me, but I'm Cecile Malcolm; you and I missed each other in the general introduction. And this is Helena Jordan—you'll love her, my dear."

Cynthia, grateful for the friendly overture, held out her hand eagerly. "Oh, I'm so glad to meet you," she exclaimed.

"Well, I'm glad to meet you, too; why we haven't run into each other before this I don't see, with all these parties that have been given for you since you arrived. But I've been away, and busy, and all that. I wonder—don't you want to come into the conservatory? It's so much pleasanter in there than here, especially as that Logan woman is going to sing."

Cynthia followed her into the conservatory, and sat down on a wide wicker couch opposite the door. Her new friend, sitting just out of range of it, took a cigarette case from the little ostrich feather bag that dangled from her wrist, offered Cynthia a cigarette, and took one herself. Mrs. Jordan had already begun to smoke.

"You'll have to smoke, my dear, to keep your spirits up at this party. Though I noticed that you found it gay enough—you sat next Noel Gardner, you lucky thing!"

"And next Stanley," murmured Helena Jordan, lazily.

"Oh, my dear, remember that he's her brother-in-law—don't expect her to be as thrilled over that as you'd have been," chirped Cecile Malcolm, laughing. Then to Cynthia: "Helena has a terrible crush on Stanley—probably you know it, though? Well, she has, as the whole town is aware. Madame Leland would give her poisoned green if it could be done on the sly. Now tell me, do you play golf? Heaven grant that you do! That's fine—why not come out to the Country Club tomorrow and have a round with me? My game's not so bad, but I'm sure that yours is much better. I can tell by looking at you that you do everything well."

Cynthia told herself that this was just idle flattery, and tried not to show that she was pleased. She had been so lonely since settling in her new home that it was a delight to find anyone who was inclined to be friendly.

"I haven't played for ages," she told Cecile. "I'd love to begin again."

"Then that's a go. Meet me at the club for luncheon, won't you? Tell me, do you know Noel Gardner well?"

"No—do you?" asked Cynthia.

"Do I? My dear child, I'm one of the few women in this town who dares admit that she's been an intimate friend of his. I don't know just what our status is at present, haven't had a long talk with the dear thing since he came home. When he went away relations between us were somewhat strained—through no fault of mine, however. Oh, well—you'll hear all the details before long, because the town talked so hard about us before he went away that it's bound to talk again now that he's home."

She lighted a fresh cigarette from the butt of the old one, tossed the latter into a clump of ferns that grew at the edge of a little pool, and glancing up, nodded affably. Cynthia, turning, looked to see to whom she had spoken, and saw Noel Gardner standing before her.

"I'm Cecile Malcolm."

"There's a painting in the drawing-room that I'd like you to see," he said to Cynthia, after greeting them both. "Won't you come with me and look at it?"

She rose, wondering at the rather abrupt invitation, and sauntered back into the room with him. She realized that several of the women were staring at her, and laid their attention to her frock, which was quite the prettiest one present. When they reached the picture she barely looked at it, but turned to Gardner.

"While there's a chance for me to ask you without being overheard—will you let me see you sometime tomorrow—on business? It's very important." She spoke in such low tones that even Louella, who sat nearby, could not overhear.

"Yes, certainly." He hesitated a moment, evidently recalling his engagements for the following day. "How about coming to my office at eleven? It's in the Winsted Building—do you know where that is?"

She nodded, and smiled up at him gratefully. "I'll be there promptly," she told him. "It's awfully good of you to see me, when you'll be so busy, after being away for so long."

He smiled also. "It could never be good of me to see you," he replied. "When I'd rather do that than anything else in the world."

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)
